PRESS NOTES FROM THE THEATRES.

"The Flower of the Ranch." From a musical standpoint, "The Flower of the Ranch," which comes to the Academy Saturday, matinee and night, is fat with song and chorus, and together with its melodramatic setting and genuine comedy situations, it is just a little the most intricate and delightful combination of this ever squeezed into two hours of footlight folly. The production is scenically correct in every detail, and the electrical insertions are pleasing to say the least. The acting company includes Jess Harris, John E. Frank, J. M. Clayton, Charles T. Mast, Walter E. Long, Alva D. Simms, Mark Reed, Miss Nellie Watters and Ellen James—Adv.

VARIED PROGRAM ATTRACTS CROWD

Largest Attendance of Season at the National Horse Show.

FIRST SERIOUS ACCIDENT

All Riders in Full Uniform Makes Up Brilliant Scene.

NEW YORK, November 10.—The third day of the National Horse Show brought out the largest attendance seen at the Madison Square Garden this season. With the senior class of West Point cadets in the boxes to-night, and a varied program of trotters, jumpers, ponies driven by children, officers' chargers, hunters ridden by ladies, and draught horses on the tan bark, the scene was one of unusual animation.

The first serious accident of this year's show sent a quail of horror through the crowd this afternoon, when W. C. Collier fell at the five-foot jumps in the preliminary trial for hunters and was kicked in the face by Irish, his mount. His front teeth were loosened, his hips and cheeks badly cut, and his back badly wrenched, but it was said to-night that no bones had been broken.

Both Alfred G. and Reginald C. Vanderbilt were retired unplaced to-day in the class for harness horses over 14 hands 2 inches, and under 15 hands. Judge W. H. Moore, their keenest rival, took the blue with his prize-winner, "Florish."

In the Delatour challenge cup class for pairs, E. T. Stotesbury, of Chestnut Hills, Pa., was first, with Lucia G. and Pearl Onward. His Lugano and Como, which took an international first at London this year, got only a "highly commended" here.

C. W. Watson, of Baltimore, won against Judge Moore and Alfred G. Vanderbilt in the class for park teams of four.

The magnificent bay stallion, Nala, of the Avondale Farm, Mass., took permanent possession for J. W. Harriman, his owner, of the Forest King challenge cup against the best horses of the country.

All riders were in full uniform to-night for the international event, officers' chargers, open to all nations, and there was a round of applause for Major Beresford, D. S. O., of Aldershot, when the blue was pinned to his mare's flanks.

Morris & Company, of Chicago, took first prize for draft horses with a pair of bay geldings.

TOMAHAWK HUNT CLUB HOLDS ENJOYABLE MEET

Rain of Day Before Makes Scent Lie Well for Dogs—Fifteen Riders Go Over Course.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ORANGETOWN, Va., November 10.—The Tomahawk Hunt Club held one of the best meets of the season this afternoon. Fifteen riders followed the hounds over an ideal course. The rain of the day before made the scent lie well for the dogs, giving the riders a fast and hard run for about five miles over good field and rail fences. The course lay through the farms of W. G. Crenshaw, Jr., Mrs. Thomas Bond, Mrs. Lee and William C. Williams. A large number of hunt followers saw the bunch come over the high plank fence near the finish. Thomas Atkinson, Jr., got a cropper in taking one of the high places. His mount, Gladiola, is one of the most delightful hunters seen here for many years. August Wambersie, on Ricketts' Kennesaw, came to grief at a ditch, but remounted and finished well with the bunch. The riding of Miss Peachy Lyne, on Northwood, was easily the feature of the hunt.

List of Those Riding:
Those riding were W. S. Grymes, M. F. H., on Rex; Thomas Atkinson, Jr., on Gladiola; August Wambersie, on Kennesaw; whips: Miss Peachy Lyne, on Northwood; Mrs. Wallace Sanford, on bay mare; Wallace Sanford, on the Roman; Dr. R. M. Harris, on Raleigh; Ronald Baldon, on Casual; Jack Lightfoot, Jr., on Katie Gray; Riley Macon, on Happy; Green Shackelford, on P'lar; Burr Nolan, on Jack Dice; V. R. Shackelford, on Mogul; Jack Woodruff, on Graycap, and Dick Trumbo, on Neurus.
